At Miller's Tree Farm, we are making significant investments in growing many trees in Rootmaker® Products. Rootmaker® is dedicated to creating fibrous root systems. Their products are designed to promote root branching and the production of more root branching at every phase of production. Each step compliments the next. The result is the ultimate fibrous root system without toxic levels of copper (spinout). A more fibrous root system means a greater surface area and translates to a greater efficiency in the absorption of water and nutrients; an increase in growth rate, establishment, and vigor; a higher transplant survivability; and ultimately, superior performance for your customers.

We have several thousand shade and flowering trees in knit fabric containers in ground, nearly 2000 trees in above ground Rootbuilder®, now have 20,000 trees of many varieties growing in 5 inch knit fabric bags, and installed a RoofTrapper®-in- Pot system. The RoofTrapper® Soft Sided Container is a black, spun-bonded fabric, which has been laminated with a white coating. This unique container stops circling roots and continues to stimulate root branching by trapping root tips. Water usage is reduced for shipping and the white outer coating greatly reduces container temperature so roots do not die on the sunny side as with black plastic pots. Most RoofTrapper® trees are 7, 10, 15, & 25 gallon. Rootbuilder® containers are mostly 30, 50, & 70 gallon size and are available for harvest at any time of the year. We are striving to supply superior trees!
